

Helen Mayer, Ph.D.

Government Programs Liaison, Anovion

440.845.3721

Hkm@att.net

History of the Importance of Cleveland to Chemistry

Helen is an accomplished technology and innovation professional with extensive experience creating and implementing dynamic solutions aimed at business growth. She is highly skilled at researching business and technology strategies and translating strategies to programs and procedures. Known for driving continuous improvement, quality, training, and safety programs, she has achieved results that shift workplace culture and increase productivity and efficiency.

